THAT SAMOAN REVOLT

German Consul Blamed For the Sensational Affair.

ADMIRAL KAUTZ EXPLAINS.

Uprising Fomented by the Former Issuing a Proclamation Which Took Issue With the American and British Ultimaton.

Washington, April 3.-The secretary of state has received from the secretary of the navy a telegram addressed to him by Rear Admiral Kautz relative to Samoan matters. It is dated Newcastle, N. S. W., March 30, 1899, and reads as follows:

"Mataafa people obeyed orders to leave government reservation. Since then have become aggressive, killing Private Holloway and three British sailors. Our man killed was guarding American consulate; German consul general issued incendiary proclamation saying that my proclamation was untrue and he should uphold provisional government. The British forces act in concert with the United States, shelling rebels where they can be reached."

A copy of this dispatch was sent to the German ambassador.

An English Suggestion. London, April 3 .- The Times, in an editorial on the Samoan controversy, says: "We do not suppose that England will offer an objection to the joint commission proposal. Although Admiral Kautz's downright fashion of saying what he means is ill adapted to soothe the susceptibilities of others, his dispatch has the merit of raising a direct issue. Probably the best way of securing a modus vivendi would be a general change in personnel until a more permanent arrangement can be

Loss to English Shipping.

London, April 3. - The hurricane weather on the Atlantic and the consequent losses to shipping have called attention to the board of trade's action in abolishing the winter North Atlantic mark for vessels over 330 feet long, and an agitation for its re-establishment has begun. Since Jan. 20. nine steamers of 26,754 tons, of £529,-000 in value, and having 300 persons on board, have been lost. It is added that they were all classed 100A at Lloyds, but it is believed they were exempt from the winter North Atlantic mark.

Must Pay Local Taxes.

Des Moines, April 3 .- Judge Prouty decided in the district court an important point affecting all insurance companies in Iowa. He held that under the constitution of the state they must pay local taxes, the same as individuals, and that the statute provision exempting them from local taxation, in lieu of a 1 per cent state tax upon their gross earnings is invalid, though in existence 10 years. They were then four miles from Isle Haut. which they reached after eight hours of hard rowing through the storm.

After Cuban Bandits.

Santiago, Cuba, April 3.-Five more bandits have been captured, including Nainon, a noted desperado. The others who have been infesting the San Luis district seem to have removed their operations to the north. OHIO'S CITY ELECTIONS

Factions Strive For Control of Municipal Machinery.

OUTCOME OF VITAL IMPORT.

It Will Have Strong Bearings on State and National Politics During the Next Two Years-Some Political Predictions.

Cincinnati, April 3.-While the municipal elections in Ohio are for loca offices, yet they have strong bearings on state and national politics, and also on factional interests in both parties.

The municipal machinery will have great influence in the selection of delgates to the state conventions to be held next month or later, and the candidates for the gubernatorial and other state nominations are conducting aggressive canvasses now in connection with these municipal elections.

The bearing on national politics is seen in Senator Foraker's presence and interest in the course of events. If a Republican governor should be elected next November who is unfriendly to the senior Ohio senator, that governor would no doubt be at the head of the state ticket for his session term two years hence, when members of the legislature are elected to choose the successor to Foraker. And the friends of the national administration want a solid Ohio delegation to the nationa Republican convention a year hence.

The Republican candidate for mayor of Cleveland, the home of Senator Hanna, is Robert McKisson, who was the fusion candidate before the legislature in January of last year for senator against Senator Hanna. It is stated throughout the state that McKisson is running for a third term not for the mayoralty alone, but also for the purpose of opposing President McKinley Senator Hanna and others in the Ohio state conventions this year and next year, and of controlling the four dele gates from the Cleveland districts, and if possible other delegates to the national convention next year.

An Easter Blizzard.

Marines In a Row.

Havana, April 3 .- A slight conflict occurred between the police and some marines and sailors of the Resolute. The appearance of eGneral Ludiow and the police reserves quelled the disturbance. John Bull's Request.

She was under $1,000 bail on the larceny charge, but the hotel proprietor having recovered all the silverware exhibite no inclination to press the cnarge This ends a series of protracted efforts to obtain Mrs. Moore's release. She was not tried on the extortion charge, on account of the absence of Martin Mahon, the complaining witness. For "badgering" Mahon Mrs. Moore's husband is now serving his term in Sing Sing prison.

Did Not Arrest Americans.

New Orleans, April 3.-Advices from Bluefields, Nicaragua, under date of March 25, tell of the wholesome effect of the determined stand taken by this government in the protection of its citizens abroad on the petty dictator. General Torres, now in control of the coast. ITS BACKBONE BROKEN

Rumors of an Early Collapse of the Philippine Rebellion.

MANY REBELS WALLT TO QUIT

However, Well Informed Spaniards Believe a Guerrilla Warfare Will Be Carried on Indefinitely-Troops Harassed Day and Night.

Manilla, April 3. - The American troops under General McArthur are still resting at Malolos, where everything has been quiet.

Hostilities have been limited to an occasional exchange of shots between the insurgents and the troops forming the lines of Generals Lawton and Hall, extending from the water works to La Lonia. But this shocting has been just active enough to make the lives of the soldiers a burden and to compel the officers to sleep in trenches, clothed and in readiness to repel possible at-

Most of the Americans are becoming convinced that the backbone of the insurgent opposition is broken. There are numerous rumors pointing to an early collapse of the insurrection. One of these is that General Pio del Pilar. the best fighter among the Filipino officers, will desert Aguinaldo and give his support to the Americans.

The Spaniards, reasoning from their experience of the natives, refuse to believe that the rebellion is anywhere near put down. They declare that the Filipinos will not take their defeat at Malolos, with the loss of the city and the removal of their so-called government, seriously to heart. On the contrary, the Spaniards predict that the insurgents will hover near the American lines, bothering them as much as possible, and when attacked in force dissolve, only to reappear at other points. This sort of tactics, the Spanlards say, will be followed until the wet season compels the Americans to be housed in barracks, and then the Filipinos will return and reoccupy such towns as the United States troops do not garrison. With the next dry season a repetition of the operations will

A priest and two members of the socalled Filipino congress, who hid themselves in the woods during the fighting which preceded the capture of Malolos, returned there and declared that 2,000 of the Filipino soldiers were anxious to give up fighting, and would do so but for their officers, who keep them under arms.

The whole country between Malolos and Caloocan is now full of friendless women, children and old people, who are returning to their homes carrying white flags. The Americans are trying to gain the confidence of the inhabitants by proving to them that if they will return and attend to their ordinary work, peacefully, no harm will befall them. Two thousand women and chiidren, with a sprinkling of unarmed men, supposed to be warriors, came to the outskirts of Malolos on the seaside of the city, and afterward sneaked away, carrying all the goods they could.

Will Fight to the Last.

Paris, April 3.—Agoncillo, the agent of Aguinaldo, in the course of an interview, says: "The capture of Malolos is not as important as the Americans are trying to make it appear. The Filipino government had previously determined upon the removal to San Fernando, and a small detachment of troops was left with orders to burn the town, and thus to draw the Americans inland. Two months of rain and fever will save the Filipinos their ammunition and a good deal of trouble, and the war will not end while a single Filipino remains to bear arms."

Cuba's Corrupt Judiciary. Havana, April 3.-Bribery and fraud

direct the Cuban courts. This is the firm conviction of the military administration. Governor General Brooke is taking the matter up, and intends to clean out the corruption, to revise the judicial procedure, to change the court personnel, and to abolish the barbarous practice of incommunicado, by which a judge may imprison for life a person ignorant of the accusation against him and of the names of his accusers.

Replies to Statements in Regard to That Alleged Turnpike "Conference."

Was Not Present at Any Such "Conference." and Had No Connection With It-A Plain Statement.

MAYSVILLE, KY., April 3rd, 1899. Editor of the Bulletin: It is seldom that I seek the columns of a newspaper to correct deliberate misstatements of fact in regard to my own affairs, and I do so in this instance only because the correction is due to the people of this county whose interests are the same as those of its humblest citizens and whose public officers I have always found to be considerate, honorable and just.

Had I adopted this course earlier and made public, through the press, facts derived from the official records of the county, then there would be little need now to contradict the statements of ill-informed and irresponsible agitators, or cite the testimony of intelligent and upright men. The people of this county would at all consider, and would not now be struggling with embarrassments, from which the associate counties in the turnpike movement are entirely free. But it is simply impossible at this late date for meddlesome and incompetent promoters to excuse errors of policy and administration by denials of fact. If there has been any errors in the business of the situation they certainly were not mine, and the best proof of this is that the same propositions for settlement submitted here were found to be satisfactory and acceptable elsewhere. For once in her history, the fine old county of Mason has been strangely deceived and misled.

My special object in writing this card is to authorize (as it were in the premises of the court itself now in session), a complete and unqualified denial of all current reports, of whatever character or from whatever source, concerning my alleged connection with a certain "turnpike conference" called by whom I know not, and for what useful or practical purpose I can not conceive, and asserting my acceptance of a proposition unofficially and irresponsibly made after I had arranged a contract with the committee appointed by the County Judge for a lease of the pikes. I was not present at a conference at Mr. L. W. Robertson's office, or elsewhere. I was not informed that such a conference would take place. I did not know that such a conference would be or had been called. I would not in any circumstances have taken part in a conference thus arranged, nor would I for a single moment have considered, seriously or otherwise, any proposition proceeding from such a source Nor in the interest of the State, of the city, and of many private stockholders could I have accepted from any court or "conference" one dollar less than my original demand.

The Board of Magistrates-capable and incorruptible men-had practically accepted my valuation of the road in leasing it at 6 per cent. on $83,000, and was it reasonable to expect that the owners of the property would, in selling it, accept $23,000 less? In fact would it not have been more reasonable to expect that knowing as they did the original cost of the road, they would be disposed to demand more? It would be easy enough, as any tax-payer well knows, to parallel such a highway for less money, but it could not be duplicated as we all know for twice the amount These are facts and figures which no conference can alter or effect; nor does it need a conference to tell us that for the final settlement of this matter nothing is required but a little knowledge of public business coupled with common orudence, common honesty and common sense, qualities which have always been ascribed to the good people of Mason County, and which certainly are not wanting to their representatives

A lazy liver may be only a tired liver, or starved liver. A stick is all right for the back of a lazy man. But it would be a savage as well as intense, the action terse and the comedy a stupid thing to beat a weary man or a starving man because he lags in his work. Judge Bullock, of Lexington, Elected President of This Turnpike Company. List of the Directors.

A lively interest was taken in the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Maysville and Lexington Turnpike Company held this morning at 10 o'clock at the office on Court street. Several gentlemen were present from Lexington, and State Inspector Lester represented the State.

The following directors were chosen: A. J. Gorham, W. B. Skinner, L. E. Pearce, J. A. Reed, J. D. Wooley, H. C. Swift.

All the new directors were from Fayette County except Dr. Reed.

County Judge F. A. Bullock, of Lexing-

That a move has been on foot to oust Colonel W. W. Baldwin from the management of the road was apparent, and his opponents, after the election of directors, were claiming a complete victory.

CHECK WAS NO GOOD.

Mr. Langhorne Anderson Has an Unpleasant Experience With a Slick Sharper Who Was Buying Horses.

[Enquirer.]

There was decided excitement Friday in horse circles-that is, among those interested in the buying and selling of horses in this city. There was an unusually large number of gentlemen engaged in this line of business in the city, due to The first day at Hechinger's the big sale of Pearce, Anderson & Co., at the stock yards. They had been to traction, and had drawn here noted buyers and sellers from all over the country. Wednesday a matinee was held at the horse market to exhibit the animals that had been sent there for sale, and a great crowd was present. It was soon rumored was present from New York, and that he offered. Those who had made a specialty of buying a high grade of horses in the country, and who have done considerable business with exporters, were very anxious to capture the new arrival. Among the first to do so was Langdon Anderson, and he found a very plausible gentleman of the name of Baker.

The stranger announced that he was in the field for an exceptionally good line of horses, and price was no object to him. Mr. Anderson had a very excellent array of horses that he had picked up in his travels as tobacco buyer for the Bodmann Warehouse Company. Particularly prominent in his array were two black horses. These had won the admiration of scores of people that looked at them, and $700 had been offered for them. They were exhibited to Mr. Baker, and he promptly bid $900, it being a private sale.

As soon as everything was made satisfactory Mr. Baker turned over a check to Mr. Anderson for $1,100 drawn on the Bank of America, of Chicago. The genhad been here for several days and proposed to remain during the sale, and while not particularly anxious for the $200, would like to have it if it would not WASHINGTON OPERA HOUSE, inconvenience Mr. Anderson. The latter promptly gave him an order for the balance on the Bodmann Warehouse Company, such as he had been in the habit J. H. HAVERLY'S of doing on all transactions.

The probabilities are that had Mr. Anderson conducted this deal as he is in the habit of doing, allowing nobody to know anything about it, he would be out $200. Friday morning at the sale he began asking a few questions of people who had transacted business in Chicago regarding the Bank of America and was telling people of his good sale. The check in the meantime had been turned over to the horse people, and they had sent it to the Equitable National Bank for deposit. Early in the morning word was sent from that institution out to the horse market that there was no such bank in Chicago. Of course this created consternation in the circle at that point. Mr. Anderson promptly called up the Bodmann Tobacco Warehouse and stopped payment on the order, explaining the situation. It was stated that it had not been presented, and all day a lookout was kept for Mr. Baker, but he failed to materialize.
